Benton Kinsolving Forging to the Front

Below we reproduce an article from the Shelbyville News announcing the candidacy of Capt. H. Benton Kinsolving as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in that district. Young Kinsolving is a native of Montgomery county and has many friends here at his old home who note with pride the rapid strides he is making and the esteem in which he is held in his adopted home. The News article follows:

"Capt. H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., well known attorney at the local bar and one of the most active young Democrats in this section, authorizes the News this morning to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in this, the Twelfth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Anderson, Spencer, Henry, Oldham, Trimble and Shelby. The primary will be held on Saturday, August 6th, 1921, at the same time the nominees for county offices are chosen.

A native Kentuckian, Capt. Kinsolving was born and reared in Montgomery county. He received his education at Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va., and later graduated from the Law Department of Washington & Lee University in the same city. He was admitted to the practice of law at the Montgomery county bar in 1915. During the trouble on the Mexican border Captain Kinsolving was in command of Company H, First Kentucky Infantry, where he served until war was declared against Germany. Upon the return of his regiment to Kentucky he was transferred to the U. S. Field Artillery and assigned for duty as an instructor in the Artillery School of Fire at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. During the war Captain Kinsolving married one of Shelby county's daughters and upon signing of the armistice returned to this city and resumed the practice of his profession.

Captain Kinsolving has taken an active interest in Democratic politics and has displayed considerable ability as an organizer. In the gubernatorial campaign he served as chairman of the Shelby County Democratic Committee and carried the county by a largely increased majority for the Democratic nominees. On the face of a Republican landslide over the state. In the Presidential campaign last year he was chairman of the Kentucky Young Men's Clubs and proved an able assistant to State Chairman Gray in redeeming Kentucky from the Republicans.

As clean as a hound's tooth, of pleasing personality, possessing untiring energy and splendidly qualified to make an able and fearless state prosecutor, Captain Kinsolving is assured of the solid support of his home county right from the start. That he will gather a large following in the other counties of the district as soon as he has had an opportunity to make a canvass all who know him agree. He is in the race to the finish and the News has no hesitancy in expressing the opinion that he has every appearance of a winner."

Small run of cattle. Following is a list of a few sales:

14 heifers at 61-2 cents; 20 steers at 71-2 cents.

Ben Murphy, 40 2-year-old steers at 7 cents.

There was a large crowd in town, considering the disagreeable weather and the prevailing spirit in the face of the reconstruction era seemed to be considerably improved over the January court. Horses sold from $50 to $200. A great many mules at good prices.

Mr. McClintock, of Bourbon county, sold 14 head of mules ranging from $100 to 250 each.

Ben Murphy, of Hazel Green, Ky., bought 32 head of horses and mules from $65 to $225.

Mr. Sanderson sold a very fine pair of 16-hand, 1200-lb mules at $600.

The tobacco market today was unusually good and farmers felt much encouraged.

We Solicit Business on Our Merits

Mr. Merchant, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Business Man—when you go to place an advertisement what facts do you consider? Do you take into consideration which paper reaches the largest number of people—the largest number of prospective buyers, or do you place it with the one that trades the most with you, or the one whose editor you happen to know?

Don't you think present-day conditions demand that you spend your money wisely, spend it where you are assured of reaching the largest number of prospects for the least money? Did you ever stop and think that when you invest money in printers' ink you expect a return on your investment—not merely to see your ad in a paper?

If this is the kind of service you want—if you want to invest in a paper that solicits your business on its merits only, being thoroughly convinced that we can serve you BETTER on account of having more readers, MANY MORE than any other publication in this section, we heartily solicit your business.

Death Claims Hazel Green's Oldest Citizen

On Saturday the 19th J. Taylor Day, aged 74 years, died from a stroke of paralysis at his late home in Hazel Green. He was a son of William Day, deceased, of Breathitt county, and is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. R. J. McLinn, Mrs. Lula Knish and Mrs. Jas. I. Hollon, all of Hazel Green. Fifty-one years ago Mr. Day was married to Miss Roe Trimble, daughter of the late J. G. Trimble, of this city, and had been a merchant in Hazel Green for 50 years.

Funeral services were conducted today by Rev. J. T. McGarvey, assisted by Rev. B. W. Trimble, of this city, after which he was buried with Masonic honors in Hazel Green Cemetery. Six weeks ago Mr. Day was paralyzed and his condition gradually grew worse until the end came. Rev. B. W. Trimble was with him from January 25th until February 18th, and Robert Trimble, Sr., was with him when his eyes were closed in death. Mr. Day was a member of the Christian church and many were the noble deeds of heart and hand. He was a liberal contributor to the Hazel Green Academy when the buildings were constructed and his pocket book was never closed to its needs. He had been an active and successful merchant, and stood high as a citizen and as a neighbor.

The families of J. Taylor Day, who we have long known and most highly respected, have our sympathy in these times of sorrow and distress.

Tobacco Barn Destroyed by Fire

A tobacco barn of 10-acre capacity on the place of Charles Swift, in the Wade's Mill neighborhood, was destroyed by fire last week.

Reports from that section were to the effect that the fire was believed to be of incendiary origin, and that bloodhounds would probably be summoned in an effort to trail the guilty parties.

The barn contained about seven acres of tobacco, some hay and farming implements. It was not learned whether there was insurance or not.

Aids to Grace & Beauty

by Priscilla Dean

"The Art of Sympathy"

It is not sufficient to be beautiful, to gain friends and admirers. Many a beautiful woman has not held her admirers and has gone through life alone and unloved because she lacked the gift of sympathy.

On the other hand throngs have been won by homely women who understood the knack of saying the right thing and of understanding the other fellow's point of view.

Louis XIV of France sent away his beautiful favorite Madame de Montespan because she was forever thinking of herself and quarreling with him, and he married Madame de Maintenon who was elderly and homely because she soothed him with her sympathetic conversation, took an interest in his affairs, and showed she thought of other people besides her own self.

No one loves the self-centered woman, no matter how beautiful she may be, or how gorgeously gowned. People are interested in their own affairs and appreciate others who are also able to talk on the subjects which interest them.

It is the same way with the woman who talks all the time and wants to hold the center of the stage. She becomes awfully tiresome after a time, and people avoid her. On the other hand the good listener need never lack of friends. She is in demand at all times.

You may not care for the affairs of other people, but this is an attitude which you can cultivate, and nothing pays better than to learn to be considerate of the feelings of others, to inquire concerning their troubles and to congratulate them on their successes.

Just think how you feel when you have accomplished something and you tell it to a woman who is bound up only in her own interests, and who listens indifferently and answers you with her interest very evidently elsewhere!

Lifelong enemies have been made by giving a careless indifferent answer and lifelong friendship by extending a warm handclasp and a hearty word at the time when they were needed.

Not only social life, but success in business depends on the gift of being able to enter into other people's lives and to understand their ambitions and trials. It is not only kind, but it is the best of good policy to try to help people in this world, if you cannot by deeds, at least you can by sympathy.

The whole secret of making people like you is to avoid treading on their prejudices and to lead the conversation on subjects which they like, and also to try to put himself in their frame of mind.

So many women make the mistake of being too aggressive, particularly if they have brains and cleverness. The cleverest people are those who have the art of concealing it and of giving others a chance. They do not go through the world trying to reform and better people and ripping up their prejudices and ways of living. They try to see good in everything and to listen to other people's views.

A friend of mine said to me the other day:

"I know a woman who is just as clever as she can be, and yet people like to have her at their houses because she is such a splendid listener. She sort of soothes me, and makes me feel glad when I visit her, and that I want to come again whenever I feel tired and down in the mouth, and that when I succeed, as I intend to do, I want her to share in my success as she has my hard days."

This woman that my friend praises so highly has such a long list of friends and acquaintances that it would surprise you. I hope you can see the reason why.

We all love to have people fuss over us, and take an interest in us, just as a cat likes to have its head rubbed and its ears scratched, which is not a very dignified comparison, perhaps, but after all we are neither so dignified nor so hard boiled as we pretend to be.

stub and thus eliminates practically all bleeding. Care should be taken to see that the iron is not too hot, or the wound will be slow in healing.

Only a small percentage of ram lambs from Kentucky are castrated when put on the market and as a result farmers do not get the price that they might from the sale of these animals. A simple method to use is to wash off the end of the scrotum with any ordinary disinfectant and cut off the lower third with a sharp knife. With the fingers the testicles may then be held out from the body and pulled out with the entire cord. Then can be pulled out most quickly with the teeth. A pair of small pliers can also be used or they may be pulled out with the fingers if one has a strong grip. The wound should be disinfected or covered with lard.

Lambs should not be put back with the ewes immediately after castration since they will usually lie down and it is much safer to have them in a pen by themselves. If the process is carefully performed on a bright day the animals will notice no ill effects. If the day is damp and cloudy the work may well be postponed.

Docking and Castrating Adds to Value of Lambs

Kentucky farmers can realize a higher price on the lambs which they send to market if they dock all of the lambs and castrate all ram lambs. Docking, which is cutting off the tail, gives the animals a more uniform and blocky appearance and in addition adds to their general appearance by enabling them to keep cleaner. When marketed the docked lamb presents a more attractive appearance to the buyer. Castrating is important since one to three cents less is usually paid for ram lambs which are put on the market late because they show signs of "buckiness." This feature is not present in ram lambs which are put on the early market, but is quite marked in those animals held for a later market. Docking should be done when the animals are from seven to 14 days old and the castrating when the animals are about 10 days old, or after the testicles have dropped.

If lambs are docked when seven to 14 days old there will be less loss of blood and the lamb notices the effects less than when it is older, according to L. J. Horneher, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. A convenient method is to use a sharp knife and sever the tail at about the third joint from the body. The skin on the tail should be pushed toward the body, so that after the tail is removed the surplus skin will cover over the end of the stub. This greatly facilitates the healing of the wound. A little lard or carbolated salve may be applied to aid the healing.

Another method which is successful in docking is the use of a hot iron which sears the end of the

The President's Cabinet

If President-elect Harding appointed all the men who are earnestly recommended by high authority for his cabinet, it would take a good sized hall to hold them. They might have to hold meetings out of doors.

The old time politician's idea was to use the cabinet appointments to flatter the pride of states and sections, and to take care of rivals who might make trouble if omitted. But the country in these times demands that government be run more like a business concern.

Many presidents have been clever in naming candidates that would please the politicians. But frequently they lacked in that estimate of business ability that would secure men with gifts for executive management.

The biggest problem that President-elect Harding has to meet during his four years, comes up right now. It is to get as heads of his departments, men with enough practical insight and constructive genius to solve the difficulties of this reconstruction period, and give the people relief from the troubles of which they complain.

Mr. Kern's Views On Good Roads

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at which County Commissioner R. G. Kern was the principal speaker, he expressed his views on the road situation in Montgomery county in the following terms: Mr. Kern is the only county official that has taken an active part in an honest endeavor to secure hard surfaced roads for Montgomery county, and if the good citizens of the county will act upon his suggestions, he believes the drive for good roads started by The Advocate some months ago, will soon bear fruit:

"There are two questions pending before the Kentucky Court of Appeals at the present time; one being a question of the counties' loaning to the state money, with which to construct good roads. This is the case from Hopkins county; the question being that the state cannot incur an indebtedness in excess of $500,000, any excess being prohibited by the constitution.

The other question is raised in a case from Trimble county; the right of a county to give money to the State Highway Commission or to the state, to construct good roads over which the county loses control. That the probabilities were, that the Court of Appeals would decide these two questions within a short time.

That his opinion and advice to this county was, before it attempted to vote any bond issue, to await the decision of the Court of Appeals in the above cases. Further, that he was opposed to a bond issue other than for the Federal Aid roads; but he thought we could and ought to put up $1.00 where the State and Federal government put up $3.00 for good roads.

That he had been in conference several times with Mr. Garrett, the State Highway Commissioner, and that Mr. Garrett was anxious that this county do something as soon as possible while the State Highway Commission was in position to take the project up. That so far as the Winchester road was concerned that should the Court of Appeals decide adversely against the counties' loaning or donating the money, then he thought private subscription should be secured for enough to raise the one-fourth on the Winchester pike."

Captain Petry suggested that the county could perhaps build one-fourth of the road from Mt. Sterling to the Clark County line. Mr. Kern tells us that since then he has interviewed Mr. Garrett in regard to this proposition and that he was in favor of it, should the Court of Appeals decide adversely the two questions raised above; but that this was the first time that had been presented to him; however, if it could be legally done he would be in favor of it.

NO. 2

Take that modest stream which flows through the other side of town called "Hinkston Creek."

Suppose this town suddenly should learn that there is GOLD in Hinkston Creek—That mineralogists from Smithsonian Institute had been holding theories of their own about Hinkston Creek Valley—and had slipped in there quietly some time ago and begun operations—and WERE NOW TAKING OUT PLACER GOLD, AT THE RATE OF A MILLION A WEEK!

Well—here's where the fact beats fiction! Where the action is better than the hypothetical!

This town of ours is rich in gold—and so is all the fine territory outside!

How much does the average newspaper-subscriber and man-of-family SPEND in a year? Suppose he spends no more than $15 per week—and you know thousands upon thousands of families spend FAR MORE than that!

If each regular subscriber to The Advocate this year contributes even so little as $20 a week to the cash-drawers of you local businessmen, you will divide up among you—from our subscribers alone, the luscious sum of $30,000 EVERY SEVEN DAYS—OR ONE MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS IN A YEAR!

A Valuable Mine! Open to YOU! Better send for us!

Yours, for the facts,

Pencil Points

(By Bildad)

We view "leg shows" and bare-foot dancers with horror, yet look at the waists, skirts and stockings our daughters and sisters are wearing!

If an honest man is the noblest work of God, better keep your eye on the self-made man.

Young fellows like to court in the dark and after marriage they wish they'd used a lantern.

We wonder if the women candidates will improve political tricks by kissing the men instead of the babies.

When you see a girl picking specks of stuff off a fellow's coat, you know what she thinks about him.

Few women change their style of hair dressing after the second baby arrives.

When you are crowing over that wonderful boy of yours, just remember that some day two people will insist that he isn't good enough to marry their daughter.

Some limbs of the family tree look good, thanks to short skirts.

A kettle full of boiling water sings but unfortunately man is not a kettle.

One look at the bride is enough to tell whether a man married for love or money.

Lots of people have plenty of him in life, but the trouble is they don't know just when to shoot.

If you want to make sure whether a man is a Socialist, hand him $10,000 and tell him to divide it among his brethren.

There is a great deal printed you can't believe, especially on bottles.

You never see a woman buy a big pair of shoes in order to get the worth of her money in leather.

We used to talk about the clothes women wore. Now we talk about what they don't wear.

Life!

I stood on the bridge at midnight,
The world seemed full of fun;
Two moons rose over the city
When there should have been just one.

I stood on a flush at midnight,
My fortunes asked no more,
But the guy who called me, smiled—
He'd shuffled a deck before.

Sermons

Sermons are of three kinds—long, short and broad, but not deep. Sometimes a short sermon seems longer than a long sermon. But no sermon is so short that it could not be shorter. The idea of a sermon is to make people believe in something of which you have had no experience, in such a way that they will tell others they know it is so because you have said it. Sermons are obtained from the Bible and newspapers. As to which is the more reliable, authorities differ. Nothing exceeds like some sermons. There are various substitutes for the sermon. Among other popular varieties are sleep and golf balls, also Sunday papers and fishing rods, as well as pienes.

A Mere Trifle

"Henry, you have run over a man."

"Don't worry; he had already been run over by the car ahead."

Born To It.

Post—Do you approve of the nude in art?

Parker—Certainly, I was born that way.

Similarities.

"Widowers," said Aunt Henrietta, "are much like babies. The first six months they cry a good deal, the next six months they sit up and take notice, and it is hard to get them through the second summer."

Sad Fate

There was once a girl named O'Flynn whose figure was terribly thin, and when she essayed to drink lemonade

Effective Plan

Redd—So you've started an economy program, eh?

Greene—Yes, my wife and I don't insist on folks staying for dinner any more.

The Pessimist

The pessimist's a funny man, he always looks around;
He never sees the pretty girls, but only sees the ground.
And when he goes to see a girl, he wrings his hands and cries,
He always sees the freckles, but he never sees her eyes.
And when he sees a picture he always makes me faint—
He never sees the picture, but only just the paint.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. ## Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanlac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years," was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. Geo. W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me, but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight, and I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac, but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case."

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run-down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times my back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect.

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, just tell them to see me."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Laad & Priest.

Farm Flock Makes $98 for December

What can be accomplished by the proper care and feeding of the farm poultry flock is shown by the results obtained from the flock of Mrs.

J. T. Wilson, of Corydon, Ky., where a profit of $98.26 was realized from 168 White Wyandotte hens during December. Mrs. Wilson is conducting a demonstration in co-operation with the State College of Agriculture and did all feeding and management according to its recommendations.

FOR MEMBER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

We are authorized to announce S. B. Lane, of this city, as a candidate for member of the House of Representatives in this district, composed of the counties of Menefee and Montgomery, subject to the action of the Democrats in primary, August 6th, 1921.

We desire to say of Mr. Lane that he is an unwavering Democrat, without a missing link in his political pedigree. That he is a well informed Democrat with a reason for his political faith. Mr. Lane is an extensive farmer and therefore has the best interests of the agriculturist at heart.
He stands for lower taxes and everything possible that would tend to the returning to a normal financial condition where there is justness between both the laborer and the men of capital. Believing that his people are entitled to the best he will favor the construction of good roads under the federal and state system, that we shall get ready and he first among the counties to receive federal and state aid. On all questions for the moral and financial uplift of the people Mr. Lane places himself with all his gifts and powers as a servant, not of the few, but of the masses.

He is not of the continuous office-seeking kind, for this is the first time he has ever come before the people asking their suffrage. There is no more substantial, popular and well qualified man in this district than S. B. Lane and we bespeak for him a careful consideration of his superior fitness and claims on the voters of this legislative district to represent them in this important capacity.

LUMBER WILL RAISE ITS VOICE

America's great lumber industry is waking up. Until a few years ago there was so much lumber that the people who deal in that commodity thought there was little use in talking to the public about it—the public knew about lumber pretty nearly as much as it knew about bread.

But scarcity of timber and increased prices have changed things and the whole industry—wholesalers and retailers—is about to launch a campaign, we understand, to tell folks about lumber in their own language, that is, in newspaper advertising.

The people have heard so much about the high cost of building that most people have blamed lumber. The editor happens to know that lumber is not to blame and we think that our citizens will be surprised at the facts that they are going to read in this connection as soon as the advertising campaign gets going.

Lumber is still the cheapest of all building major materials. It is still the most flexible. The average man can go farther with it in money and also architecturally. It can be made to look beautiful; it is strong, and well we all know that it withstands many a burr better than most solid buildings because it will take much vibration.

Lumber is one of our greatest industries and we are glad to hear that it is going to come out of its shell and converse with the people.

NO ATTENTION TO ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The Advocate is in receipt of a communication signed "A Renter," complaining of the high costs of rents and the low wage scale, and stating it is impossible for the renter to pay the prices now being asked and make ends meet on the present basis of prices offered the farmer for his product.

If the author of the communication cares to give us his name we will gladly give publicity to his article and make what comment we see fit. We have no time or use for anonymous communications and as a rule throw them in the waste basket without paying any attention to them whatever. By signing your name to a communication we know what authority we have, and are willing to lead in any fight that we think will tend to better living conditions.

ADVICE TO REMEMBER

The winter is drawing to its close, but the past has taught us that the fog end is the worst for pneumonia, colds and like diseases.

Caution the members of the family against spitting in the home or in public places. Provide a handkerchief.

Even though it is cold weather do not become a "shut-in."

Keep in the open, get all the fresh air possible, do not overclothe yourself, exercise, and there will be fewer colds and less pneumonia.

Remember that it is during this weather that pneumonia increases.
If you keep in good physical condition you will be able to more successfully combat coughs, colds and pneumonia.

A WISE APPOINTMENT

In the naming of Charles Evans Hughes as Secretary of State we feel that President-elect Harding has made a wise choice. Justice Hughes is a man of international reputation, is a broad thinker, favors the League of Nations and should be of much value in handling foreign affairs.

Deepest Snow of Season

The deepest snow of the winter fell in this section Saturday night and early Sunday morning and it is generally estimated as being from 10 to 12 inches deep, while in many places it drifted to a depth of several feet. On account of these conditions travel was almost impossible Sunday and Monday and there was no rural mail service either yesterday or today. It is hoped that conditions will be such as to permit carriers to go on their routes tomorrow.

Praises Hoffman

Below will be found the account of H. G. Hoffman's talk before the Paris Chamber of Commerce last week, as given by the Bourbon News:

"Mr. Ruggles introduced as the speaker for the occasion Harry Hoffman, president of the Mt. Sterling Chamber of Commerce. Mr.
Hoffman's talk was a brilliant and snappy one, abounding in wit, and good, hard common sense, and tickled the auditors, besides furnishing them with "food for reflection." Mr.
Hoffman outlined the possibilities of a year's progress where the combined efforts of the membership of the Commercial Club and the City Council are used in the same direction.
He stated that one city used as its slogan "United we stick, divided we're stuck." Another city, he said, was using the slogan, "Boost or Move." That these slogans were mere suggestions of the true purposes and functions of a commercial club, was pointed out by the speaker. At the conclusion of Mr.
Hoffman's address he was warmly applauded and complimented."

Two-Thirds of Land Secured

The following article from the Winchester Sun shows how earnestly the officials of Clark county are working in an effort to secure a hard-surfaced road between Winchester and this city:

"The task of securing the necessary Right of Way on the Mt. Sterling pike is progressing nicely, and according to reports about two-thirds of the property owners have signed up deeding the necessary space to the project without compensation. The securing of the entire Right of Way is necessary before any action will be taken by the commission toward advertising and letting of the contract. This is one of the most important roadways in the county and should meet with the approval of all of those along the roadway. The Fiscal Court Committee have been untiring in their efforts toward securing the consent of the property owners and the property owners who have been approached have willingly deeded the necessary space."

Last Game of Season

On next Friday night at Trimble Hall the City High School basket ball teams, boys and girls, meet the Cynthiana High School teams. This is the last game of the season and promises to be one of the very best games played on the local floor. Our boys defeated the Cynthiana team at Cynthiana by a small score, and our girls were beaten by the Cynthiana girls during the same evening. So, according to the dope, our girls will lose next Friday night and our boys will win. But you can't always depend upon the dope, and, in fact, we understand that the Cynthiana boys are confident of carrying away the laurels at the next game. Our girls are not saying anything, but we do know that they are fully expecting to turn the trick on the Cynthiana girls when they come here next Friday evening. To say the least, both games will be bitterly contested from the beginning to the end, and the scores, no doubt, will be very close. Dr. Tigert, from the University of Kentucky, will referee both games. It's the last game of this season, so don't fail to come.

Attention, Farmers!

As president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association of Montgomery county, I am calling a meeting of the farmers of the county at the Courthouse Saturday, February 26 at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of ascertaining how many farmers, tenants included, would be willing to reduce the acreage of tobacco fifty per cent for this year.

This meeting is called in accord with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association of Kentucky. So far as the association has been able to canvass the sentiment of the farmers on the fifty per cent reduction of the tobacco crop for this year it seems quite unanimous.

One thing is evident, the farmers will be forced to protect the tobacco crop with an organization or quit growing it. Let's get together!

Respectfully,
T. B. HILL.

Local Boys Defeat Frankfort 22 to 14

In a very interesting game at the Trimble Hall last Friday night the City High School basket ball team defeated the fast team from Frankfort by the score of 22 to 14. The game was hotly contested throughout. The girls' first and second teams played a close and exciting game as a preliminary in which the first team was victorious by a close score, it appearing for some time that the second team would be returned the winner. There was a large crowd present and the games were highly enjoyed.

Produce Review

Egg production has increased nearly 50 per cent as compared to the same period last year, the larger receipts resulting in lower prices in the producing territory.

Poultry prices have long remained at a high level in relation to other foods. A lighter demand for dressed poultry and smaller withdrawals from storage, however, have resulted in lower prices in the consuming centers. It is expected that prices will remain on a somewhat lower level than those which have prevailed for some time past.

Butter markets have reacted rather sharply during the past week, and while production is probably 15 per cent heavier than a year ago, the demand for current use is much greater than is usually the case at this time of the year. Prices for butterfat have advanced at country points.

Another factor to be considered is the reopening of a number of condensery plants, which have for some time been making butter instead of condensing milk.

Immediate imports of butter will not be as large as anticipated, as the S. S. United States, arriving February 18th had only 896,000 pounds of Danish butter instead of 2,464,000 pounds as originally reported.

His Own Tart Lines Read at His Funeral

J. W. Overstreet, who died last week at the age of 72, was buried, and over his grave was read his own funeral oration, which he had prepared just before his death.

Mr. Overstreet had also made all his funeral arrangements, directing that a flag cover his body and that patriotic songs be sung instead of sacred music. His directions were carried out to the letter. J. B. Betts, an undertaker, read the "message from the dead," which said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:

"You are not accustomed to having a man preach his own funeral through the gifted tongue of another, but this is a precedent.

"Before you lays all that remains of J. W. Overstreet, Sr. I was formerly a subject of life. I breathed, perambulated and mixed with my fellow beings. But now my pallid face, expressionless eyes and stilled tongue tell you I am dead—dead to you, dead to the world and dead to all eternity.

"I have now traveled the oft trod path to the grave, the home of eternal rest; there to rest and sleep in that long, eternal, blissful, dreamless sleep that knows no waking; no wars, no politics, no religion, no strife, no labor and no worry will ever disturb me in my peaceful slumber.

"I am bereft of all pain, all feeling; my heart has ceased to beat, my brain has ceased to whirl. I am beyond the slanders of the members of the Ananias Club to do me any injury.

"My past life proves what I did learn. Humanity was part of my study. I learned more about the hypocrisy, deceit and treachery of some of my fellow beings than I care to tell. I once tried to be a Christian, but found the church had so many public praying hypocrites and political huns that I seceded.

"If I ever did anyone a willful injury I ask for forgiveness. I bid you one and all a last farewell, and say be good and useful, be honest and truthful. You will follow me later on.

"P.S.—The one who delivers this address will please explain that Ananias was the greatest liar that ever lived.

"My executor will see that this is all read by some one gifted in speech. I do not want any religious service, no prayers. But if any singing at all, I prefer 'The Star Spangled Banner,' 'Home Sweet Home,' or 'Old Kentucky Home.'

"They may sing these songs, then read this address when I am gone. Then consign me to my grave beside my dear wife."

Weekly Marketgram

HAY AND FEED—Hay receipts light in Eastern markets; heavy in West. Trend of market downward. Prices declined during the past week, but a few have reached from the low point. Cincinnati still congested. Good demand for best hay noted at Minneapolis and Omaha. Quoted February 16th. No. 1 timothy, New York, $30; Kansas City, $18.50; Philadelphia, 24; Cincinnati, 23; Minneapolis, 20.

Wheat feed market slightly improved; linseed and cottonseed meal remain dull and in light demand. Alfalfa meal and beet pulp quiet. Hominy feed and oat feed quoted higher. Gluten feed unchanged. The weather conditions restrict demand. Stocks in all sections reported as normal or larger than normal. Cottonseed stocks at mills about 7,000 tons larger on January 31st than last year, insuring sufficient production from now on to equal that of last year. Feed prices in general barely holding steady. Quoted bran, $20.50, middlings, 29; flour middling, 24, Minneapolis; linseed meal, $36, Minneapolis; $42, Cincinnati; 36 per cent cottonseed meal, $26.50, Memphis; $33, Chicago. Gluten feed, $35 Chicago; $33, Cincinnati; beet pulp, $33, New York.

LIVE STOCKS AND MEATS

With the exception of sheep and lambs, Chicago livestock prices now show advances compared with a week ago. Hogs advanced 25-50c, beef steers, 65-95c, feeder steers, 25c-$1 per 100 pounds. Common cows and heifers unchanged, but the better grades were 50-75c higher.

Fat lambs declined 60c-$1; feeding lambs, 60-75c; yearlings, 25-50c lower; fat ewes steady at 25c higher. February 17 Chicago prices Hogs, bulk of sales $9@9.75; medium and good beef steers, $8.40@10.15; butcher cows and heifers, $4@9.25; feeder steers $7@8.75; light and medium weight veal calves $9.50@12.25; fat lambs, $6@9.50; feeding lambs, $6.25@7.50; yearlings, $5.50@7.25; fat ewes, $3.50@5.25; Eastern wholesale fresh meat markets, compared with a week ago, beef ranged steady at $1 higher per hundred pounds. Mutton up $1@2. Veal up $1 at some markets, and $1 lower at others. Lamb and pork loins practically steady. Feby. 17 prices were: Good grade meats, beef, $13@15; veal, $18@20; lamb, $17@20; mutton, $10@13; light pork loins, $12@15; heavy loins, $14@17.50.

GRAIN—The week's grain trading had a poor start, prices dropping to about 2c on account of evening up for the double holiday. On the 14th and 15th prices rose 10c as a result of reports of green bugs in Southwest. Later, an overbought condition was disclosed and a part of the advances was lost, despite more serious reports regarding green bugs. Larger movement, small demand and entire lack of export business are now dominating market sentiments, milling demand slow. On the 17th five Iowa hanks reported closed. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat 25, 26 and 31c over Chicago March; No. 2 hard 4@7c over; No. 3 mixed corn, 4 1-2c under May; yellow, 3 1-2c under. Minneapolis reports flour demand dull, wheat milling demand fair. For the week Chicago March wheat advanced 1c to $1.63 3-8; Bay corn 2c at 69 7-8. Minneapolis wheat up 1c at $1.57; Kansas City March down 3-4c at $1.58 1-2. Chicago May wheat at $1.59 1-8.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter markets gained strength during week, prices of higher grades advance 1-2 to 1c almost daily. The hand to mouth buying by jobbers and retailers has given way to more confidence and more active trading. About 900,000 pounds of Danish butter have arrived at New York with present market at 45@46c for it. Prices score domestic: New York, Boston and Chicago, 47c; Philadelphia, 48c. Cheese market is rather weak and quiet; prices in distributing markets have changed but little during week. With lower prices at Wisconsin market, trading has become more active and majority of sales for fresh cheese, 25 1-2c.

During the apparent present slump in business, the Merchant is very often at a loss to know how and the best method at hand for disposing of his goods. At times he becomes almost pessimistic concerning his advertising.

The weekly newspaper has always been the happy go-between of merchant and buyer. Now, more than ever the newspaper stands paramount as the best means available for the advertiser to reach his prospects.

Record Prosperity Seen by Big Banker

Necessity for insuring "the solvency" of American railroads by a reduction in operating expenses, of establishing a stable basis of exchange between farm and industrial products and of solving the unemployment problem, was advocated as primary factors in business readjustments by Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

Addressing the tenth annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, Mr. Sisson said the readjustments now being made are "laying the foundation" for a better and more enduring prosperity than the United States has ever known.

He decried the "decreased efficiency" of individual railroad employees following pay changes, holding it "the most striking example of labor's resistance to inevitable economic readjustments."

Washington, D. C.—"I was a sufferer of constipation for about eighteen months. I took a good many things for it but nothing did me much good. I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. ### Paducah Man Takes Up Work at State College

Announcement has just been made at the State College of Agriculture that Griffon Jett, a graduate of that institution, whose home is at Paducah, McCracken County, will take up the position of extension specialist in farm management on February 1st. During February and March Mr. Jett will devote his time to conducting one-day farm accounting schools in various counties of the State of Kentucky. These schools will deal with the most important principles of profitable farm management and operation, according to Prof. W. D. Nichols, head of the Farm Management Department of the State College.

Mr. Jett is well qualified for his new position, having been employed as an assistant in farm management extension work during the summer of 1920, at which time he helped with the cost of production demonstrations, which were being carried on by the state institution. According to Professor Nichols, his work was especially effective in Jefferson County. Jett was also an officer in the army for two years and spent one-half a year in one of the largest Scottish universities.

Kentucky Farm Notes From Here and There

L. H. Graham, a Warren County farmer, with headquarters at Bowling Green, will sow a cover crop of sweet clover and use nitrate of soda on his trees as a part of a new orchard management project which he has just started, according to a report of County Agent W. H. Rogers.

Hornee Gribbons, a Marion County farmer, with headquarters at Bradfordsville, is planning to conduct an orchard demonstration in co-operation with County Agent H. J. Childers. Mr. Gribbons has a good orchard, 15 years old, and it will be pruned, sprayed and fertilized, according to Mr. Childers.

Plans have practically been completed whereby LaRue County farmers in the neighborhood of White City, will have a cream station at that place. Fifteen new cows have been placed in a local cow testing association, according to County Agent J. W. Jones. The new station will probably be established in the spring.

Organizations of the Warren County White Plymouth Rock Poultry Association for the purpose of boosting the breed in that section of the state and assisting in the marketing of poultry products was completed at a recent meeting of the county's poultry raisers, according to a report of County Agent W. H. Rogers. Mrs. J. N. Harris, of Woodburn, is president; Mrs. A. P. Patterson, vice president, and Fred A. Kelley, secretary-treasurer, of the new organization.

The Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville, Christian County, will plant 40 acres of strawberries and lime, its entire farm, as soon as possible, according to reports coming from County Agent Leland A. Bunch.

A. J. Culver, a Christian County farmer, who is conducting a poultry demonstration project in co-operation with County Agent Leland A. Bunch, and the State College of Agriculture, realized a profit of $90 for December on his flock of 1,500 White Leghorn hens, according to a recent report which he made.

Your health is endangered not only from diseased conditions within your own mouth, but also from those and similar conditions in the mouths of others. You come in contact with these conditions in various ways, in breathing their exhalations, in using their pencils, borrowing their clothing, furs, etc. These insidious germs move and drift from place to place and your contact with them is almost constant. ### SIT DOWN A MINUTE AND THINK

Size up your Condition. Look at the Facts Squarely

IT PAYS TO HAVE GOOD HEALTH

Most Illnesses Are Prevented by a Good Supply of Rich, Red Blood

Take Pepto-Mangan, the Red Blood Builder

Either you are in good health or you are not. There's no half way. You may think nothing of being a little run down. It may not worry you if you look pale. You may think you'll be all right tomorrow or next day. But will you?

Certain, it is when you do not feel just right, you are not right. There is probably something the matter with your blood. And while you can get around and do your work you are leaving yourself open to any of the diseases that are always waiting to take possession of run-down people.

When you are pale and easily tired, when you cannot enjoy your meals, when you lose enthusiasm, your blood needs attention.

Take Pepto-Mangan for a while. It is a great tonic. It will build up your resistance to disease, and you will soon feel stronger. The little red corpuscles are fighters. They battle with disease germs and win out when there are enough of them. Keep your system well supplied. Then you will keep well and you will enjoy life.

But be certain you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for it by the full name — "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Some people take it in tablet form. It is so convenient. The liquid and the tablets have the same medicinal value. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advertisement.

Kentucky's Quota Will Not be Cut

The congressional reapportionment bill is dead for this session. This may be stated on the best of authority as the direct assertion of majority leaders in the Senate. Nor is there any possibility that the apportionment bill, which the next Congress will consider, will reduce the membership in Congress of either Kentucky or any other states.

In Kentucky and Missouri it was

Uncle John's Josh

SAY JACK, DID YOU EVER SEE A DOLLAR BILL THAT HAD NO FRIENDS.

feared by Republican leaders that possible failure of Democratic legislatures to redistrict would necessitate the election of the entire reduced membership in Congress by the states-at-large method, and that Democratic delegations would result. Not only that, but in Indiana, with 13 Republican congressmen, the legislature and Republican leaders all balked at a redistricting which would cut out one of their Republican members.

As these conditions will continue to exist after March 4 there is little likelihood that the next Congress will apportion congressional membership in such a way as to cause a loss of members from any state.

Club Enrollment to Have Big Increase

More than 12,000 Kentucky boys and girls ranging in age from 10 to 18 years, have already been enrolled and 10,000 more are expected to be enrolled in junior agricultural clubs during 1921 as a result of a recent proclamation made by Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, signing a club enrollment week, according to results of the campaign which are being compiled in the office of C. W. Buckler, state leader of junior club work in Kentucky.

With indications pointing toward an enrollment of approximately 23,000 youngsters an increase of about 500 per cent over the 4,000 in 1920 will be realized, according to Mr. Buckler. The campaign was conducted during the week of December 6 to 11.

The largest enrollment in a single county was reported from Whitley county, where County Agent E. F. Davis already has 1,200 boys and girls signed up for the work. He expects to enroll at least 150 more. Other counties which have enrollments of more than 500 youngsters include Jackson, Clay, Barren, Laurel and Davies.

Reading to Children

I have been watching two groups of little children at play. One group spend most of its time trundling themselves and each other up and down the sidewalk in various sorts of vehicles, kiddie cars, tricycles, toy automobiles and wagons, in gazing at the traffic and various happenings of the street; in going to the store for candy, and now and again chasing each other about. The other group is always energetically "playing something," lively outdoor games, and dramatic representations of Indians, Fire Departments, Red Cross, First Aid, giants, farmers, explorers, builders. These and endless other imitative plays all have their turn.

Why should the little boy of the first group sit drearily on the doorstep when left to himself, apparently waiting for something or somebody to come along and entertain him? Why should the little girl of the second group sit under a lilac bush holding in her hand a switch tipped with a yellow dandelion head, and, like a dainty Fairy Queen, touch everything nearby with her magic, gold-tipped wand, so absorbed in her imaginative play that she is entirely oblivious of passersby? The answer is easy. One child has an undeveloped imagination, and the other a mind so full of pictures that she has unending resources for all unoccupied hours or moments.

Without knowing the exact circumstances I can be reasonably sure that she and the other children of the second group have parents who make a practice of reading to them. They are probably quite as busy as those fathers and mothers who "would like to read to the children, but somehow never have time," who recognize the importance of education by means of books, but who are unwilling to sacrifice inclination in order to give time to their children; who know full well that the early years are the impressionable ones, but let the golden opportunities and psychological moments drift away.

Those parents to whom my little Fairy Queen belongs find the time, make the necessary sacrifices, and live up to their privileges of enriching their children's imagination and cultivating a habit that means endless joy and future opportunity for self-education of the best possible sort.

Let me urge you, parents who read these lines, to make a practice of reading to your children every day of their lives until they are able to do it for themselves. The librarian of any public library will gladly select and furnish the books you need. Your effort and sacrifice will be repaid an hundred fold in the happy home hours which your children will never forget, in a wealth of play material for the time they must fill by themselves, and in a mental equipment for later years whose value cannot be overestimated.
